WASHINGTON, February 2, 1869.

FENIAN CONVICTS.

The President replied to-day to the resolution of Representative Robinson, of New York, calling for the correspondence between the Government of Great Britain and the United States relative to Costello and Warren, naturalized citizens of the United States now imprisoned in Great Britain, having been convicted of treason and felony. Minister Johnson encloses a letter from Costello, dated Chatham Prison, in relation to his conviction. Mr. Johnson replied on the 4th of November, and stated he should not fail to send it to Washington as requested. Mr. Johnson does not offer any remarks on this and similar cases. As official copies of the trial of Warren, Halpine, Costello and McCafferty has recently reached him, he trusted he would soon be able to send to Secretary Seward a brief but faithful summary of them, with some observations on each. The correspondence with Lord Stanley and others, enclosed, has heretofore been published, and no additional documents are transmitted giving new official facts on the subject.

TREASURY DECISION.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that wheat of the United States is not liable to duty on account of transhipment from vessels of transportation from one United States port to another through continuous foreign water, owing to the wreck of vessels.

Class B Warehouses Closed—Murderer of Sheriff Orcutt, of Michigan, Discovered—Libel Case of Postmaster Cook—The Rogers Murder.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 2, 1869.

Collector Shook, who is also Collector in charge of exports, has received instructions under which he is now causing to be closed all class "B" warehouses in this city heretofore used for storage of tobacco in bond. The tobacco contained in them is being transferred to separate bonded warehouses established for its reception.

Edward Francis alias Gus Shaw alias Stephen Boyle, who was arrested while about to perpetrate a robbery at the store of S. P. Squire, No. 182 Bowery, has been identified as the murderer of Sheriff Orcutt, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, who was shot in front of the jail by the accused and a confederate named Hugh Darrows.

In the United States District Court today, the libel suit of Isaac Cook, formerly postmaster of Chicago, against the New York Tribune Association, for an alleged libel, was set down by the Court for trial on Thursday of this week.

The government officers have seized the large distillery of A. B. Knafffrs, in Thirty-seventh street, on the ground that the alleged owners were engaged in defrauding the government of tax on whisky.

It is said the men, Maher and Riley, arrested yesterday, will be able to prove an alibi by the police themselves, because, on the morning of the Rogers murder, after having been released at half-past six, they were compelled to shovel snow from the sidewalk in front of the station house for half an hour.

CHICAGO.

Shoemakers' Strike—Park and Boulevard—A Sorosis Row.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, February 2.—The shoemakers of the city are on a strike. It was caused by a large firm requiring more work done each day for which the shoemakers demanded and were refused five dollars a day. An effort is being made to establish a co-operative factory, with a capital of one hundred thousand dollars in ten dollar shares

Governor Marshall, of Minnesota, yesterday called the attention of the Legislature to the unpaid debt of the State incurred by loaning its credit to railroads. He recommends the appropriation of five hundred thousand acres of the internal improvement land for the cancelling of the debt.

The Sorosis organizations of this city are having a lively quarrel. Both intend holding a Woman's Suffrage Convention on the 11th and 12th insts. Anna Dickinson, who lectures here, is also expected to address both Conventions at the same time.

Flood in Connecticut—Lives Lost.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BETHEL, CONN., February 2.—Fifteen lives were lost by the flood to-day by drowning and the intense cold. Up to this hour eleven bodies have been found, and four persons are missing. Three men were standing on one of the bridges watching the water as it rushed down, but before they could reach the shore the bridge upon which they were standing was carried away and they were all drowned. A lady becoming terrified at the freshet was drowned by imprudently attempting to leave her house while it was surrounded with water and high cakes of ice.

FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[THIRD SESSION.]

SENATE: Woman Suffrage Question Laid Aside—Consular Diplomatic Appropriation Bill—Sharp Passage Between Messrs. Sumner, Patterson and Hendricks. HOUSE: Pension Regulation Bill Recommitted—Withholding of Railroad Bonds as Security—East River Bridge Bill Passed—Fenian-Americans in English Prisons—Indian Appropriation Bill—Internal Revenue Bill Considered at the Evening Session.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 2, 1869.

SENATE.

The Judiciary Committee was discharged from the further consideration of Woman Suffrage.

The House bill giving pensions of fifty dollars to the widows of Generals Bidwell and Heckman was passed.

A resolution was adopted calling on the President for the correspondence of Admiral Davis relative to the Paraguayan difficulties.

After some unimportant business, the Senate, at the expiration of the morning hour, took up the Consular appropriation bill.

The pending amendment was that of Mr. PATTERSON, of New Hampshire, to reduce the annual pay of the Judges and Arbitrators appointed under the treaty of 1862 with Great Britain, for the suppression of the slave trade, to one hundred dollars and fifty dollars respectively.

A long discussion followed, during which Mr. PATTERSON expressed surprise at the words and tone of the Senator from Masachusetts, in comparing him to the traitor Slidell, because he brought forward this proposition for retrenchment. His record was not so long as that of the gentleman from Massachusetts, nor so brilliant, but such as it was, it was known to his constituents, and nothing that gentleman could utter would tarnish that record at home or abroad. The Senator was not the keeper of his political creed or character, and he was under no obligations to defend his political orthodoxy, because the Senator called for it in Senate.

Mr. SUMNER said it was past his comprehension what the Senator meant. He had made no allusion to the Senator's orthodoxy, but simply expressed regret at his course upon the practical question before the Senate.

Mr. HENDRICKS said this is simply a proposition to save $12,500 to the Treasury, which it is proposed to expend without any benefit to the country or the world. The Senator from Massachusetts undertakes to prevent this saving, by saying that Mr John Slidell made the same proposition years ago.

Mr. SUMNER—I did not say that. I said he made a similar proposition.

Mr. HENDRICKS—Well, sir; what did that mean? Simply that the Senator from Massachusetts, as a leader here, thought he was putting the political lash over the shoulders of some Senators. I do not know how men feel when the lash is brought over their shoulders in that way. I do not think that a man has a right in political discussion to attempt to prevent the exercise of another's judgment by using the lash as the Senator from Massachusetts does, as though some body should be afraid to support a proposition, because long years ago Mr. Slidell made a similar one. The Senator from Massachusetts then undertakes to show that we are technically bound by a treaty to make this appropriation, and again he raises the lash. He feels profound regret that a Senator from New England should make so ill-considered a proposition as this amendment in favor of the slave trade. Mr. Hendricks then spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. MORTON, after some remarks, moved an amendment providing that they shall be paid only for the time they are at their posts.

Mr. SUMNER thought the amendment of the Senator from Indiana met the precise exigency.

After an animated discussion of points of order, which lasted over an hour, Mr. Patterson's amendment was voted down and Mr. Morton's adopted.

The Committee on Finance were discharged from the further consideration of the bill to regulate the payment of tonnage tax.

The Committee on Foreign Relations were discharged from the further consideration of the bill to prevent alienation to foreigners of grants or privileges from the United States, Mr. Doolittle's joint resolution in relation to laying telegraph cables, and Mr. Morton's resolution to prevent the landing of foreign submarine cables without authority of Congress.

Mr. WILLIAMS, from the Committee on Finance, reported the House bill in regard to manufacturers, with amendments, so as to provide merely that all taxes upon naval machinery for the government, which had not accrued before last April, shall be remitted.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a bill providing that in the stipulations under which telegraphic lines or cables shall be allowed to land within the jurisdiction of the United States our Government is to have the same privileges as any other government, and also to have the priority for its messages and to select an operator to send them, and prescribe rates for its and other messages. Under these conditions the consent of Congress is granted to the landing of cables, dependent upon the grant of a similar right to American companies by foreign countries.

Mr. CAKE introduced a bill to authorize the transfer of lands granted to the Union Pacific Railroad, Eastern Division, between Denver and the point of its connection with the Union Pacific Railroad and the Denver Pacific Railroad, to expedite the completion of the railroad to Denver, Colorado. Referred to the Committee on Pacific Railroad.

Mr. WILSON introduced a bill to authorize the consolidation of Infantry regiments and for other purposes. Referred to Committee on Military Affairs. It directs the Secretary of War, whenever any Infantry regiment falls below the strength deemed necessary to its efficiency, to consolidate it with another, and assign its officers to duty as fast as vacancies occurred; but the number of Infantry regiments shall not be reduced below thirty. The bill authorizes the Secretary of War to offer for sale certain real property of the United States at Harpers Ferry, Virginia, and at Rome, New York, and makes some regulations in regard to bounties under the Act of July 28, 1866, the most important of which is that claims therefor must be presented before next September.

Mr. WILSON introduced a joint resolution to submit to the Legislatures of the several States for ratification the following articles of amendment to the Constitution:

"ART. 15, Sec. 1—All the residents of the United States, residents of the several States now or hereafter comprehended in the Union, of the age of twenty-one years and upwaads, of sound mind, shall be entitled to an equal vote in all elections in the State wherein they shall reside, (the period of such residence as a qualification for voting to be decided by each State,) except such citizens as have been engaged in rebellion or insurrection, or shall be duly convicted of treason or other infamous crime.

"Sec. 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

"ART. 16. Sec. 1. The right of citizens of the United States to hold office shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

"Sec. 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article."

Mr. HENDERSON introduced a bill to establish a Department of Home Affairs, the Department to have charge of the General Land Office, mining interest, Indian affairs, Bureau of Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, and the Bureau of Education. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The bill relating to the operations of the Pension law was taken up.

Mr. NIBLACK withdrew his motion to recommit.

Several amendments were offered.

The bill was then ordered printed and recommitted.

Mr. SHANKS offered a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury, in all cases where the Government has aided in constructing railroads, to withhold bonds sufficient to secure the construction of a first class road. Referred to Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. PAINE, from Committee on Reconstruction, offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for information as to whether any district commander has turned over for trial or punishment to the civil authorities of any reconstructed State any persons who had been tried, convicted and sentenced by a military tribunal. Adopted.

Mr. COOK, from the Committee on Roads and Canals, reported a bill to establish a bridge across the East River, between the cities of Brooklyn and New York. It directs that the bridge, to be constructed under an act of the New York Legislature, shall be, when completed in accordance with said law of New York, a lawful structure and post-road for the conveyance of the mails of the United States.

After discussion, Mr. DELANO offered an amendment providing that nothing contained in this act should be construed to legalize any structure that would materially injure the navigation of the river.

The amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

On motion of Mr. ROBINSON, the House proceeded to business on the Speaker's table.

The first business taken up was a message from the President transmitting the correspondence called for by a resolution by Mr. Robinson in December last, in reference to the cases of Costello and Warner, United States citizens imprisoned in Great Britain.

Mr. ROBINSON addressed the House at considerable length, insisting that the honor of the American nation was involved in the question.

Mr. CHANLER also addressed the House on the same subject.

Finally the correspondence was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, with leave to report at any time.

The Senate amendments to the House bill declaring vacant the offices held by disqualified persons in the unreconstructed States, were concurred in.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole, Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, in the chair, and resumed the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill.

After being about two hours in session, the Committee rose.

Mr. LAWRENCE asked leave to offer a joint resolution to amend the Constitution of the United States, for reference to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. RANDALL objected.

The resolution reads: "No State shall make or enforce any law which shall deny or abridge to any male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years or over, and is of sound mind, and who has resided in such State one year, and has complied with such regulations equally applicable to all electors as to registration and local residence not greater than one year, as may be prescribed by law, an equal right to vote by ballot at all elections in such State, except only to such as have aided or participated in or may aid or participate in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or any State, or to such as shall be duly convicted of treason, felony or infamous crime."

The House then took a recess until half-past seven, the evening session to be confined exclusively to the consideration of the Internal Revenue bill.

Evening Session.—The House met at 7:30 in Committee of the Whole, Mr. Schofield in the Chair, and proceeded to the consideration of the Internal Revenue bill, commencing at the point where it was left off last session, viz: Section 121.

The tax on gross receipts of theatres was increased to three per cent., and the specific tax on seating capacity struck out.

Mr. SCHENCK, on behalf of the Committee of Ways and Means, moved to strike out sections 128 to 138, inclusive, relating to mineral oil, they having been rendered unnecessary by the act of last session.

Mr. HOOPER moved to retain the 132d section, which provides penalties for mixing oils with dangerously inflammable substances.

Mr. MOORHEAD moved a substitute for all the petroleum sections, being a section of a bill prepared by the Petroleum Inspectors in consequence of the disastrous collision on the Ohio river, and which proposes the inspection of all petroleum to ascertain that it is not mixed with dangerous compounds.

Mr. HOOPER moved to amend the substitute by making it unlawful to convey any coal oil or petroleum on any railroad train, steamer or other conveyance while carrying passengers.

The last two amendments were rejected and Mr. Schenck's adopted.

Mr. SCHENCK said the sections from 139 to 326 related to tobacco, snuff and spirits. He moved to strike them out and substitute for them the law of last session, taxing those articles.

Without disposing thereof, the Committee rose and the House adjourned.

The Alabama Treaty—Opposition to Ratification.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, February 2.—It is stated that almost universally the individual sentiment of Congress is opposed to the ratification of the protocol of the Alabama treaty, in the form in which it now exists, and that there can be no doubt that this feeling will find legislative expression when the time comes, and that there will be a non-concurrence in the treaty stipulations so far as the English counter claims to our demands are concerned. The few stray words of General Grant a few days ago, that it was not a mere question of dollars and cents for a few ships burned, but a question of the destruction of our commerce, met with hearty approval everywhere, so that the fate of the impending protocol may be regarded as sealed. It is generally felt that Mr. Reverdy Johnson has been somewhat hasty in the entire transaction, and the Senate will never agree to the settlement of the Alabama business on the basis proposed.

Memphis Items.

MEMPHIS, February 2.—Wm. Noe, second steward of the steamer W. A. Caldwell, was shot through the head and instantly killed, this morning, by Arthur Cartwright, porter on the same boat. The difficulty grew out of their mutual admiration for a chambermaid. Cartwright escaped into the city, and is not yet captured.

The train from Madison, Ark., brought in a large number of refugees from Crittenden county, fleeing from a party of negroes who represented themselves as militia. They hung a planter named Gibson this morning, and committed every species of vandalism.

The Canadian Assassin Whalen.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OTTAWA, February 2.—A cable dispatch has been received from England stating the Whalen appeal case could not be taken before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. When this information was conveyed to Whalen, to-day, he at once sent for a priest, and it is expected he will make a confession.

—Reports are current in Springfield and Quincy, Illinois, that Hon. J. N. Morris, of the latter city, has been tendered the portfolio of the Interior Department. The Illinois State Register credits the rumor.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—General Grant is expected to arrive in Philadelphia to-morrow.

—James Maher and Edward Reilly are the names of the men last arrested in New York city as the assassins of Mr. Rogers.

—Gov. Hays, of Ohio, declines to interfere with the sentence of the Court in the case of Lewis Davis, condemned to be hanged at Cleveland to-morrow.

—The College building at Adrain, Michigan, was partially destroyed by fire Sunday morning. Most of the contents were saved. Loss $20,000; insurance $6.000.

—The remains of Captain Lewis McClean Hamilton, who was killed in Gen. Custar's battle with Black Kettle's band of Indians, are en route to Poughkeepsie, New York.

—The charter election at Burlington, Iowa, on Monday, resulted in the election of Mr. Bell, Republican, for Mayor. The Council stands four Republicans and four Democrats.

—The ship Duke of Edinburg and the United States steamer Gen. McPherson collided, on Monday in San Francisco harbor. The latter was extensively and the former slightly damaged.

—A resolution was introduced in the New York Assembly, yesterday, instructing the delegation of the State in Congress to press the payment in full of bounties to volunteers, even to those who served only three-fourths of their term of enlistment.

—A violent snow storm prevailed throughout the northwest on Monday. At St. Paul fifteen inches of snow fell, at Lacrosse twelve inches, at Winona eighteen inches, and at other points a less amount, and at St. Louis and points in Missouri and Kansas rain has fallen since Monday.

—A resolution has been adopted in the New York Legislature to appoint a committee to investigate the case of the increase of capital stock by the great railway companies of that State, and report what legislation is necessary to protect the rights of stockholders and prevent secret issues of stock.

—Serious Indian troubles have occurred at Sitka, Alaska Territory. A difficulty occurring the Indians raised the red flag, but Gen. McMahon threatened to bombard the place and the chiefs surrendered. A few days subsequent, a number of Indians, while leaving the harbor in a canoe, contrary to orders, were fired on and seven killed and four wounded.

—General Grant is reported to have replied to a Congressman, who insinuated that President Johnson would not ride with him to the Capitol on inauguration day, as follows: "There is a constitutional requirement which renders it necessary for me to go to the Capitol on inauguration day to be sworn in, but I know of no requirement which renders it necessary for Mr. Johnson to go there to be mustered out."

—Investigations of Revenue officials at New York show that wealthy trustees of up-town churches have used money, set apart exclusively for church purposes, for investment in stocks through favorite brokers. One official estimates that at least $2,000,000 of church funds are thus invested, while the names of the real capitalists never appear in public. A Baptist clergyman is known to have speculated largely in stocks, and he spends much of his time among brokers. It is also stated that a number of the churches have been mortgaged for the purpose of obtaining money to be used in stock speculation.

—Preparations for the Upper Missouri river trade for the coming season are being made. It is believed the business will be larger than last year, and the late action of the underwriters in requiring steamers to come up to a certain standard of strength gives assurance of greater security to property than heretofore. There will also be discrimination between side-wheel and stern-wheel boats, and between officers who are experienced and inexperienced in the trade. The government will also transact its business upon principles different from those which have heretofore prevailed. Instead of contracting with the lowest bidders, General Donaldson, Chief Quartermaster of the Military Division, will select his own boats for the service, and will give preference to those commanded by their owners. The government last year lost about a million dollars worth of property by the sinking of inferior boats, which will be avoided this year, if possible, by the selection of the best steamers and most reliable officers. Thirteen side wheel and fifteen stern wheel boats are already named to leave for Fort Benton as soon as navigation opens, and others may be added.

THE EXPLOSIVE PRODUCTS OF PETROLEUM.

We reprint, as a matter of interest to manufacturers and the public, the bill introduced in the House by our Representative, Gen. MOORHEAD. It is entitled to be "for the better security of life and property from the dangers of coal oil, crude petroleum, and their products, and for other purposes:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act there shall be levied and collected in such manner and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe, a tax of — cents upon every barrel of distilled or refined coal oil or petroleum which shall be of the quality marked No. 1, as hereinafter provided; and a tax of — cents upon every barrel of such distilled or refined oil or petroleum which shall not be equal in quality or grade to No. 1, and upon every barrel of benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline, and all other like products of coal oil or petroleum, and upon every barrel of crude coal oil or petroleum, and there shall be levied and collected a tax of — cents upon every gallon of such distilled or refined oil or petroleum which shall not be equal in quality or grade to No. 1; and upon every gallon of benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline, or other like products of coal oil or petroleum in the hands of any person or persons other than the refiner or manufacturer thereof having the same for sale.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Treasury shall appoint inspectors of distilled or refined coal oil or petroleum, whose duty it shall be to examine and inspect and designate the quality of all coal oil or petroleum that shall be distilled or refined in any State, Territory or district of the United States; and if any person shall sell or remove from any distillery or refinery, or any establishment where coal oil or petroleum has been distilled or refined, any refined or distilled oil without complying with the provisions of this act, such oil so sold or removed shall be seized and forfeited to the use of the United States; and any person or persons so offending shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000, which shall be recovered before any Court of competent jurisdiction, one half of such penalties to go to the informer.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That in order to ascertain the quality of distilled or refined coal oil or petroleum, it shall be submitted by the inspectors aforesaid to the process known as the "fire test," or such other mode of testing by which its quality shall be ascertained, as shall be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury; and all such oil, when so tested, which will not ignite at a lower temperature than 110 degrees of the Fahrenheit thermometer, shall be designated as No. 1 refined oil; and all such oil which will ignite at a lower temperature than 110 degrees, when tested as aforesaid, and all benzines, benzole, naptha, gasoline and other like products of coal oil or petroleum, and all crude oil or petroleum, shall be designated by other and higher numbers in such manner as shall be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That before any such distilled or refined oil shall be taken from the premises where it has been distilled or refined, it shall be put into good, tight, iron-hooped barrels or casks, and the heads of all barrels or casks containing oil which will not ignite at a temperature lower than 100° by the test aforesaid shall be painted white; and there shall be marked thereon, in plain black letters, the name of the person or the company who distilled or refined the same, and the name of the works and the place where it was distilled or refined, and also the name of the inspector who inspected the oil, and the number designating its quality. And all such distilled or refined oil which shall ignite at a lower temperature than 110°, when tested as aforesaid, and all benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline, and all other dangerous products of coal oil or petroleum, shall be put into barrels or casks of the quality aforesaid, and the heads thereof shall be printed red; and the name of the person or the company who distilled or refined the same, and the place where distilled or refined, also the name of the inspector who inspected the same, and the appropriate number designating the quality of the contents of such barrel or cask, shall be marked thereon in plain white letters; and all crude oil or petroleum which shall be barreled or put in casks shall be put into barrels or casks of the quality aforesaid, the heads of which shall be painted red, and the contents shall be marked thereon in plain white letters; and every person who shall falsely mark, or cause to be falsely marked any such barrel or cask, or who shall put into any such barrel or cask the head or heads of which are painted white, and marked with black letters, oil which will ignite at a lower temperature than 110 degrees when subjected to the test aforesaid, or who shall put any such oil or benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline, or other like dangerous product of coal oil or petroleum, or crude coal oil or petroleum, into any barrel or cask that shall not be painted and marked in accordance with the provisions of this act; and if any person shall put or cause to be put any such oil of an inferior quality, or benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline or other like products of coal oil or petroleum or crude coal oil or petroleum into any barrel or cask, the color or marks upon which indicate the contents thereof as being of a higher quality; or if any person shall sell any such article or product without stating to the purchaser the true character of the same, such person or persons shall be subject to the penalties imposed by the second section of this act; and if any explosion, fire or other disaster shall occur by reason of any such violation of this act, such person or persons so offending shall be further punished by imprisonment for a period not to exceed ten years.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That each Inspector appointed under the provisions of this act shall be paid at the rate of — cents per barrel or cask for every barrel or cask he shall inspect, and for every barrel or cask of oil which shall be inferior in quality to number one oil; and for every barrel of benzine, benzole, naptha, gasoline or other like products of coal oil or petroleum, he shall be paid at the rate of — cents per barrel; which shall be paid out of the revenue received under the provisions of this act in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall provide.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Treasury shall make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to secure the proper execution of this act, and may from time to time cause special examination to be made into the administration thereof.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That all moneys collected by virtue of this act shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States, and separate accounts thereof shall be kept, and said moneys, or so much thereof, as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the payment of the expenses of carrying into effect the provisions of this act; and all officers of the Treasury Department shall render such services in connection with the enforcement of this act as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe.

AN express train on the Michigan Central Railroad was nearing Albion on Tuesday afternoon, the passengers waiting for the train were startled by the frequent whistling of the engine. It was found that a man was driving at a furious pace to get his horses and wagon across the track before the engine reached the crossing. The engineer did his best to stop the train, but it was too late, and the cowcatcher struck just between the wagon and the horses, separating them instanter, and consigning each a place on opposite sides of the track, little or none the worse of the collision. The man and his wife (each about sixty-five) were caught upon the platform above the cowcatcher, and just in front of the engine. Instead of losing presence of mind and jumping off, they settled themselves composedly, as though nothing had happened. The old lady put her hands in her muff, while the old man, with one hand extended, as if grasping the reins, and the whip raised in the other, assumed a jockey attitude, and thus the old couple rode up to the station triumphant, amid the cheers of the bystanders. As soon as the train stopped a number rushed to their assistance; but they declined all aid, manifesting no concern for themselves, but considerable for the fate of the horses and wagon. The horses were uninjured, and the damages to the wagon were trifling.

THE bearer of the protocol of the Paris Peace Conference, M. Walewski, has arrived in Athens. The Government of Greece, at the date of our latest advices, seemed still to hesitate, but as the Government of Russia urges it to accede to the propositions of the Conference, it is now expected to yield and sign the protocol.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 135¾@135¾.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, February 2, 1869.

MONEY.

Money fairly active at seven per cent. on call, with exceptions at six; supply equal to the demand. Sterling firmer at 9¾@9¾. Gold, without decided change, opened at 135¾@135⅝, but fell to 135½ and closed firmer at 135¾@135⅞. Exports to-day, $536,000.

BONDS AND STOCKS.

Governments improved and demand higher. Coupons of 1881, 112¼@112¾; do. '62, 113½@113⅝; do. '64, 109¾@109¼; do. '65, 110⅝@110¾; new do., 108⅝@108½; do. '67, 108⅜@108¾; do. '68, 108⅞@109; Ten-Forties, 108¼@108¾.

State securities steady. Missouris, 86@86¼; Old Tennessees, 67½@68; New Tennessees, 67@67½. North Carolinas, 60¼@60¾; Virginias, 62@62½; Louisiana Levee Sixes, 68@68¼; do. Eighths, 86.

The stock market opened with better feeling and prices soon improved½@2 per cent. The features were New York Central, Michigan Southern, Rock Island and Northwestern. The first named ranged from 160¼ to 164; Rock Island advanced to 131¼; Michigan Southern to 95¼; Northestern to 83⅞ for common and 89½ for preferred. At the first regular board, however, the market weakened and subsequently declined ¼@½ per cent. The firmness in New York Central is due to the favorable reports concerning Jenck's injunction case. Erie dull and lower. Columbus, Chicago & Indiana Central has fallen 6 per cent. since yesterday. In the afternoon railroad speculation was buoyant and there was again a sharp advance in prices, and the closing quotations were about the highest of the day, the market showing great strength at 5:30 P. M. Miscellaneous shares firm. Express active, being now called at the morning board.

The Express says the situation among the Express Companies seems invested with a peculiar interest, in view of the continued rise in stocks, which have been stricken from call of two boards, and this in the face of large watering. The reports that the Adams Company intend to sell stock, variously stated at $3,000,000 to $3,600,000, are without the slightest foundation, in fact. The Adams and United States have partially arranged their settlement with the American and Merchants Union, by which they are to recover routes surrendered to the Merchants Union when the late combination was made. The Adams gave up on this arrangement twenty-six per cent. and the United States sixteen per cent. of their routes and amount in stock and cash, which the Adams is to pay to the receiver. Their old lines comprise but a very small portion of $3,600,000, the amount reported. The United States of course would have to pay even a smaller sum than the Adams. The recent purchases of the Adams are understood to be on account of stock to be delivered to the American and Merchants Union in part payment. Some brokers have consulted with the Presidents of the Adams and United States Companies, and both of those gentlemen express their entire willingness to have their transfer books removed to a responsible trust company, but are compelled to await the authorization of their Boards of Directors at the next regular monthly meeting.

Five-thirty Prices:—Cumberland, 38¼@38¾; Wells Express, 31½; American, 47½@48; Adams, 67½@68; United States, 50@53; Merchants' Union, 18¼@18¾; Quicksilver, 23½@24; Canton, 59¾@60¼; Pacific Mail, 118¾@119; Western Union Telegraph, 39¼@39¼; Mariposa, 7⅝@8; do. preferred, 25⅝@26; New York Central, 165¾@165⅝; Erie, 37⅜@37½; Hudson, 135¾@136¼; Harlem, 135½@137; Reading, 96¼@96⅝; Terre Haute, 41@42; do. pref., 68@68¼; Wabash, 65¼@65¾; do. preferred, 77@78; St. Paul, 75¾@76½; do. preferred, 81¾@82 Ft. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with six feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather has turned soft again, and last evening a drizzling rain was falling, but we should not be surprised to see it turn cold just as suddenly, as the wind appeared to be veering around to the west.

We have no arrivals to record aside from the regular packets. The Armadillo, from Louisville, and Lorena, from St. Louis, are both due.

The Camelia departed for Nashville last evening with a good trip, having all the freight she could carry. It is but proper to state that a considerable proportion of her freight was for Cincinnati and Louisville and other way points.

The new steamer Mollie Ebert, Capt. George W. Ebert, will positively take her departure for New Orleans to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The Mollie is a tip-top boat in all respects, and there are no better steamboatmen that Captain Wash Ebert, and Standish Peppard, the cashier.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, will be the next boat out for Nashville, leaving on Saturday.

The R. C. Gray, Capt. Isaac Whittaker, is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville on Saturday.

The Wild Duck and barges, Capt. Anawalt, are up for St. Louis.

—The Champion arrived at Cincinnati on Sunday with a good trip.

—The pilots' strike on the Alabama river is ended. One hundred dollars per month is the basis of settlement.

—The Wauanita, New Orleans to Pittsburgh, and the Rover, en route from St. Louis, arrived at Cincinnati on Sunday.

—The wreck of the J. N. McCullough is visible again above the surface, since the late decline in the river commenced.

—Captain Frank M. Davidson, a well-known steamboatman, died at his residence in Newport, Kentucky, on Sunday last.

—The pilot wheel and lifeboat of the famous Diana were brought up to Louisville from Greenville, Mississippi, on the Dexter.

—Captain U. Shewmaker has purchased the little Euclarie for the Wabash river trade, between Terre Haute and Perryville.

—Verhoff Brothers, of Louisville, are negotiating for the Peytona and barges, for transporting grain in bulk from points on the lower Ohio to New Orleans.

—During the gale on Friday, at 2 P. M., the fantail and a portion of the guard of the G. A. Thompson, laid up at Fulton, were blown off. It hailed hard at Pendleton.

—The Dexter on her recent upward trip, made the run from Helena to Memphis in eight and a half hours. Captain Montgomery thinks she is the fastest craft on the river.

—Andy Miller, a native of this city, employed as a deck hand on the steamer Arkansas, fell overboard on the 22d inst., when the boat was twenty miles below Little Rock, and drowned.

—Mr. John Spencer has retired from the office of the Silver Moon to engage in the railroad business at New Liberty, Pennsylvania. Mr. Geo. Higgins has been promoted to the office of the Silver Moon.

—Captain Hugh Campbell was in Louisville the other day looking after the McMillan steam capstan, in which he is interested. A suit is now pending against the steamer Armenia for infringment of this patent.

—The Louisville Democrat says: The steamer Neville is owned by twe ladies, Miss Martha Cochrane and Miss Varble. This is, perhaps, the only steamboat on the Western waters, or, we might say, in the whole country, owned exclusively by ladies. Success to the Neville.

—The Lorena, bound for Pittsburgh, got badly used up by the gale which prevailed on the river Friday. Late arrivals at Cincinnati report meeting her near Millersport, Saturday, with only stumps of chimneys about fifteen feet high, part of the railing on her roof torn off, and no spar nor derrick on her starboard side.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: We are credibly informed that a movement is on foot in this city to organize a transportation and insurance company, consisting of three towboats and nine barges, to ply between Cincinnati, Memphis and New Orleans, in connection with the Erie Railroad Company. The object is to give through bills between New York, Memphis and New Orleans, at all railroad rates.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 58½@59f.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 79⅞.

GOLD closed yesterday in New York at 135⅞.

MR. MOORHEAD made another ineffectual effort to bring up his tariff bill yesterday in the House.

THE mania for reckless speculation in New York, has smitten not only office-bearers in churches, but churches themselves, if current reports may be credited.

THE INTEREST-DODGE of the Railway subsidy ring does not seem likely to win. Even the Senate Committee is reported to be against the new policy. But these schemes will bear watching until the last moment of the session.

THE STATE Editorial Convention at Harrisburg is fairly attended, the visitors enjoying the courtesy of the Legislature yesterday, the personal issues with the members from Beaver and Philadelphia being adjourned for the occasion.

THE Legislature makes a show of virtue by proposing an investigation into a matter about which the people feel no special interest; but is careful not to touch the point in regard to which public attention has been aroused and full information demanded.

ALTHOUGH the House tabled the resolution extending encouragement to the project of Haytien annexation, it is expected that the question will be revived before the close of the session, and with great confidence that it will gain the approval of the House.

MR. E. W. DAVIS wishes it known that his intemperate and coarse remarks in the House, at Harrisburg, on Friday last, were not designed particularly for this journal. Uufortunately for that individual, through instinct and habit, he took such a course as to make it of no consequence to any gentleman, who or what he intended.

IT IS now stated that a decided majority of the members of Congress are opposed to the ratification of the protocol of the Alabama treaty. The objection is to allowing the British counter-claim for damages, on the ground that something more is involved than pecuniary loss. If this be so, then Congressmen should remember that nothing short of an immediate declaration of war is the only real remedy to be applied in the case.

THE BILL submitted to the House by our Representative last week, of which we publish the text this morning, seems to provide practical and efficient safeguards for the protection of the public against perils to life and property from the use of the explosive products of petroleum. It is presumed that the tax, for which the bill provides, is additional to the present excise, and to be specifically applied to meet the expense of the inspection of these products under the proposed law. The measure will naturally attract the attention of the trade as well as of the people at large.

WASHINGTON reporters insist that we shall not take the money, in satisfaction of the Alabama claims, as our only compensation for the vast injuries, of a secondary character, inflicted upon our commerce. And day after day the reporters reiterate that this is the opinion of the President elect. Of course, General GRANT, the reporters, and the rest of the world understand that nothing but a war can satisfy this view of the case. We are asked to believe, therefore, that a war with England is to be a leading feature in the policy of the new Administration. Taking it for granted that the approaching unpleasantness will still have in view the obtainment of some other material result than mere hard knocks, perhaps we may as well accept the Rawlinsian-Medillian theory of the situation, and announce that the new Administration will take full payment in the acquisition of Canada, and in nothing else—which, if we get it, will cost us only a few hundred thousand lives and another thousand millions of debt. Who cares for such bagatelles as these, when our wounded National honor demands the reparation?

A NEW YORK mercantile firm seems to be at the bottom of the movement to obtain a subsidy, from our Legislature, for a proposed line of steamships from Philadelphia to Bremen. The Philadelphia journals bring to us the report of a "gilt-edged banquet," given the other night, at the Continental Hotel, to a dozen Senators and Representatives and other "eminent citizens" by the enterprising New Yorkers. The "object of the gathering was to take some steps toward the establishment of a line of steamers from that city to Bremen," and the benevolent Gothamite assured his guests that the only thing needed to establish the line was the $75,000 subsidy from the State, &c., &c. A "gilt-edged banquet" in Philadelphia, at an outsider's expense, is always sure to be a success, which is more than we can say for the outsider's hopes, or for the steamship lines when established. The expectation of legislative aid in this case will be as delusive as the splendid programmes which have heralded previous attempts, and previous failures, to establish and support a paying steamship line from that port. In the meantime, let the New Yorker bleed!

THE COAL TRADE.

The Pottsville Miner's Journal, of the 30th ult. contains a carefully prepared statement of the coal trade on the Eastern side of the State, for 1868.

The total amount of hard anthracites mined and forwarded from the Schuylkill, Lehigh, Luzerne and Shomakin districts was 13,405,016 tons, being an increase of 1,193,801 tons; of semi-anthracites and bituminous, from Lykens Valley, Short Mountain, Dauphin county, Trevorton, Broad Top and Cumberland, the total amount was 2,041,095 tons, or an increase of 142,711 tons. Aggregate, 15,446,101 tons, and an increase of 1,336,512 tons. If the average price realized was $6 a ton, the whole proceeds was $92,676,606.

During the year there was imported 402,299 tons of foreign, being a falling off from the year before of 119,006 tons.

The gross amount of bituminous coal mined in Western Pennsylvania, and elsewhere in the United States, is estimated at 10,000,000 of tons. This would make the whole amount mined and used 25,444,101 tons. But, it must be remembered that the estimate of bituminous coal is, at best, only a rough approximation. It is almost impossible to arrive at any reliable judgment of the whole product, the region in which it is developed is so broad, and its use, in the main, so near the pits. Take the Pittsburgh basin, as an illustration; there really are no means for ascertaining with any thing like precision, the aggregate yield of the mines. So, then, the probabilities are that instead of 10,000,000 of tons covering the whole weight of bituminous used, that total falls considerably short of the real amount.

But, take the returns as estimated above, and it appears that the total coal crop last year was of the value of $150,000,000; full two-thirds of it, produced in Pennsylvania.

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

The Amendment of the Constitution which is to be sent down by Congress to the State Legislatures for ratification—for the Senate will concur with the House in this matter without doubt—will elicit a vast amount of discussion. Democratic orators will have a theme upon which to declaim that does not rise above their intellectual range, and radical white men and well-abused negroes will come in for about an equal amount of vituperation.

As the proposed new article is very short, and as it is well to have before us what we are talking about, we quote it:

ARTICLE ——, Section 1.—The right of any citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, by reason of race or color or previous condition of slavery of any citizen or class of citizens of the United States.

Some will raise a hue and cry that this is an invasion of the reserved rights of the States. But it is nothing of the kind. The Constitution, as it now stands, solemnly declares that all men, no matter what their color may be, who are native born, or who have sworn allegiance to this Government, are citizens; moreover, it guarantees to the citizen of each State all the rights and immunities of a citizen in all the States. Neither of these provisions impinges upon the reserved rights of the States. Now it is proposed to provide further that no accident of color or of previous condition shall impair the right of a citizen to the elective franchise. The supreme law of the land says every man is a citizen; and this amendment is merely a provision to carry out practically that declaration. Here in Pennsylvania, under the Constitution of the United States, every colored man is the equal of every white man on the score of citizenship; but under the Constitution of the State he is but an alien, so far as the important right of suffrage is concerned. The two Constitutions are in conflict, and just such a provision as this is needed to bring them into harmony.

This provision does not at all impair the right of the several States to regulate the franchise of their citizens. After it shall have been adopted Massachusetts may adopt or continue universal suffrage; Connecticut may adopt a qualification based upon intelligence, or the ability to read and write; New York may make property the qualification; Pennsylvania may, if she chooses, require both property and scholarship of her voters, or she may make the suffrage so broad as to admit all men, and all women too, to the polls. The only effect of the proposed amendment will be that the rule, whatever it may be, shall bear upon all citizens alike, and abolish the absurd rule that now obtains.

The disability of the African race in the matter of the franchise was the slow outgrowth of slavery after that baneful institution became potential in the Government. When the Constitution was voted upon in 1787-8 colored men in all the States but one—South Carolina—voted; and it was not till several years afterwards that they began to be disfranchised. In Pennsylvania they continued to vote till 1836—forty-nine years after the National Constitution was framed; and when the right, or privilege if you choose, was taken from them, it was not done in obedience to the public sentiment of the people of this State. The action of the Convention was uncalled for and unexpected, and probably would not have been acquiesced in had not the Supreme Court of the State, Chief Justice GIBSON presiding, almost simultaneously decided that a freeman, if he was black, or if he was not white, was not a freeman in a legal or Constitutional sense, and therefore had no right to vote. The Court having so decided, the Convention, then in session, inserted the word WHITE, and thus clinched the nail which the Court had driven. Thus things were so fixed, that to have voted the amended Constitution down would not have restored the franchise to colored men. Now, however, by the highest authority in the land they are expressly declared to be citizens; so that whatever authority there may once have been in that decision has fallen to the ground.

To men who shall live a century hence it will seem like a glimpse into the dark ages, when they read that a rule so unjust, so silly, so utterly illogical and indefensible, was allowed to debar a very considerable portion of the American people from the most precious right of citizenship. We look back at the infatuation which led conscientious men and women to acquiesce and even take part in the burning of poor wretches who were accused of witchcraft, with mingled surprise, pity and indignation; and just so will the men of 1969 look back at this generation who disfranchised men on account of the color of their skins, no matter how worthy and intelligent they may have been. But the eyes of men are fast opening to the absurdity of the thing now; and the light, as it shines more and more, will establish that article in the Constitution. Then we shall be done with the Negro Question in our politics.

WHY LIMIT THE PATENT LAWS?

Upon the Congressional table rests a petition, from quarters entitled at least to a considerate audience, for the extension of the privileges now conferred by the patent laws upon mechanical inventors, to the originators of new processes and to the discoverers of new products in agriculture and its kindred departments of horticulture and floriculture. The petitioners make out a very strong case; more than that, the mere statement of the claim seems to us its own ample justification. The demand is so palpably just that, instead of recapitulating the arguments which support it, one needs only to challenge any array of objections.

The food of the race is drawn from the earth. What the sea supplies is auxiliary, but by no means of indispensible necessity. The common consent of all ages accepts the tillage of the soil as the chief reliance at the foundation of either individual or social existence. The rudiments of agricultural knowledge have been the same, and almost equally known, from the expulsion of the first parents to this day. The sweat of labor and the certainty of its reward, the trust of the seedtime and the rich increase of the harvest—these are still the same as when, thousands of years ago, man was instructed that the common mother-earth must ever continue to support his very life from her bosom. How comparatively scanty the progress yet made, with all our boasted advance of knowledge, in penetrating the secrets of the earth's reproduction, the simple mysteries which met humanity almost at the threshold of its creation!

Yet, nevertheless, inductive science has accomplished much. Little as we have been able to learn touching the simplest processes of Nature, the patient ingenuity of man, stimulated by the need for existence itself, has solved the most curious and yet successful applications of natural laws, and has been repaid by numberless additions in the quantity, quality and variety of edible products. Ever first of all problems to engage our attention, taxing human science and promising an immediate personal reward, the inquiring thought and the bodily sweat of the race have been given, through innumerable generations, to the solution of the one question—how to wring the largest amount of food from the labor spent upon a grateful earth. Much as we have learned, and copious as our rewards may seem, it is also true that these have been attended with an infinitely greater cost to the race, of time, of toil, of mental exertion and of material expenditure, than have gone to secure for man all his mechanical triumphs. As it has ever been, so this day—for the few who are laboring in the field of scientific or mechanical discovery, there are countless millions, all over the globe, watching and investigating the processes of nature in the production of man's food with the most curious anxiety.

The invention of the steam engine, or the discovery of the electric telegraph are justly accounted as benefactions to the race. Are those advances in knowledge any less deserving of reward which multiply, cheapen or render the surer that food which sustains us, by the evolution of new and better processes of labor, or the discovery of new varieties of that food itself? Why should the one be repaid with the highest rewards from society while the other is denied any form of grateful remuneration?

The originator of a new grain or root, of a new vine, fruit or even flower, the discoverer of a new and valuable process of culture is just as much entitled to protection and reward, under the theory of our patent-laws, as the inventors of engines, telegraphs, or new processes for treating the metals; certainly quite as much entitled, as the genius which accomplishes something novel in apple-parers or mouse-traps. The one devotes as much time, money and labor to his researches as the other. The success of the first promises blessings quite as marked for the race as the other could ever hope to see realized by his genius. Yet our laws protect and enrich the latter, in the possession of his discovery for a period of years, while a valuable novelty in agriculture or horticulture is denied the faintest shadow of reward, in the legally exclusive title to the results of his thought and toil.

We think this is all wrong. The injustice of such a discrimination is flagrant. The present petition to Congress, for an equal, uniform and general application of the principle upon which our patent laws are based, must have the cordial support of an intelligent community. While this movement is in the right direction, it needs only to be persevered in faithfully, to be sooner or later successful. And then we shall find that we have only begun to learn what can be done, in the way of extorting new wealth for the race from the bosom of Old Earth.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

TUESDAY, February 2.—In the case of R. Putnam & Co. vs. James P. Tanner, action in bankruptcy, reported yesterday, Mr. Miller, as attorney for N. Holmes & Son, creditors of the respondent in this case, presented a petition praying to be allowed to intervene and try the case. The motion was argued at considerable length by Mr. Miller for petitioners, and Mr. Feterman contra, after which the Court overruled the motion, and ordered the following entry to be made upon the record in the case:

February, 1869.—The jury being sworn, Mr. Barton and Mr. Patterson, the attorneys for petitioning creditors, were directed by the Court to open their case, offer their testimony and go on with the trial.

This they declined to do, stating that they were not authorized by their clients to proceed further with the case. At this stage of the proceeding, Mr. Miller claiming to represent creditors of the respondent, but who were not petitioning creditors, moved for leave to intervene and try the case. After argument by Mr. Miller for, and Mr. Fetterman against the motion, upon consideration thereof, this February 2d, 1869, after Mr. Miller had presented the petition of N. Holmes & Son, the Court refused the motion for the reason that they were not petitioning creditors, that they are not parties to the issue which the jury are sworn to try; that they are not responsible for costs, and that they must be treated as mere volunteers and strangers and without a legal status in Court. There being nothing before the jury upon which to pass, the Court directed that they be discharged from giving a verdict, and ordered that the proceedings in this case be dismissed at the cost of the petitioning creditors.

The next case taken up was that of N. Holmes & Son, petitioning creditors, vs. James Robb, debtor. It is still on trial.

George Barnes, convicted of stealing a box containing mail matter, from a postal car ot the Union Depot, was brought into Court and sentenced to seven years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

On application of John Carpenter, a writ of habeas corpus was issued, directed to General Whitely, commandant of Allegheny Arsenal, commanding him to produce the body of Hamilton C. Carpenter, now unlawfully held in custody as a deserter. The writ is made returnable this morning at ten o'clock.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.

The case of Risher & Wilson vs. Nicholas J. Bigley, previously reported, is not concluded.

Following is the trial list for to-day:

72. Dollar Savings Bank vs. Aeschelman.
87. Rees vs. Morrow.
128. Catharine Rumpft vs. Isaac Vichenstein.
134. Christian Wagner vs. Jones & Laughlin.
138. J. McCabe vs. P., Ft. W. & C. and C. & P. R. R. Cos.
140. C. C. Taylor vs. Patterson & White.

Court of Oyer and Terminer—Judges Mellon and Sterrett.

The trial of William Groves, indicted for the murder of John Dearr, was taken up in the Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday.

The alleged homicide occurred about one o'clock on the morning of the 15th of November last, and having published the testimony taken at the Coroner's investigation, it is unnecessary to reproduce it. The facts elicited on the trial are in substance as follows:

Groves resided in Temperanceville, and at the time mentioned was awakened from his sleep by a noise on a porch in the rear of his dwelling. He was led to believe that some one was trying to get into the house. He armed himself with a gun, and then went back to the door, but after failing to obtain an answer to his inquiries he opened the door and fired at Dearr, who was then leaving the house. Deceased reached the road and then suddenly sank down and expired, the charge of the gun, which consisted of duck shot, having taken effect in the right shoulder, and lodged in the region of the heart. Groves summoned a physician as soon as he had discovered that he had shot the man, and afterwards surrendered himself into the custody of the authorities. When the case was called up District Attorney Pearson and H. A. Collier, Esq., appeared for the Commonwealth, and M. Swartzwelder, Esq., for the defense. The prisoner was arraigned in the usual form, and plead not guilty.

A jury was impannelled in the usual manner in such cases and a number of witnesses examined, after which the case was submitted to the jury on the charge of the Court and without argument by counsel. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty without leaving the jury box.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

TUESDAY, February 2.—In the case of R. P. White vs. Anthony Graham, action on book account, the jury found for the defendant.

Olive Neely vs. Alexander Neely. Subpœna in divorce. The grounds upon which divorce was urged were alleged ill-treatment and abuse. The jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

On motion of Joseph M. Gazzam, Esq., Wm. Love, Esq., of Ohio, was duly admitted to practice law in the several courts of Allegheny county. Mr. Love is a graduate of Kenyon College, studied law with the late R. S. Mooday, Esq., of Steubenville, O., and was admitted to the bar in that State last fall.

Henry Dietrich vs. Robert McDonald. This was a suit growing out of the sale of a horse, the action being brought for the purpose of recovering the value ot the animal. On trial.

The following is the trial list for to-day:

34. Saulsberry, vs. McCallum.
37. Groves vs. McMahon.
38. Kauffman vs. ——.
42. Orr vs. McCune.
43. McIntosh, Hemphill & Co. vs. Keystone Hotel Co.
44. Hahn vs. Eberlee.
45. McVay & Co. vs. Mosely, Rahm & Co.
40. Same vs. Blair,
47. Same vs. Mosely, Rahm & Co.
48. McClaren vs. Fahnestock & Co.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

TUESDAY, February 2.—Frederick Meyer, against whom there were two indictments for receiving and buying scrap iron from minors, upon one of which he was tried yesterday, was found guilty in both indictments. He was sentenced in each case to undergo one months' imprisonment in the county jail, and to pay a fine of five dollars.

Malvina Wallace plead guilty to a charge of larceny, and was sentenced to the House of Refuge.

James Gillespie alias Scully, indicted for malicious mischief, plead guilty, and was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of one month in the county jail.

Daniel Smith was tried on an indictment charging him with having burglariously entered the house of Peter Cosgrove, in Allegheny. He was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of fifteen months in the Western Penitentiary.

Water Scarcity.

Mr. Joseph French, Superintendent of the City Water Works, elsewhere announces that he deems it his duty to inform consumers of Hydrant Water in the city of Pittsburgh that extensive and highly important changes in the machinery at the Lower Water Works will require, for the present, careful use and strict prevention of waste of water. Railroad companies and other large consumers must use strict economy in use of water for all purposes, and the use of street washers and fire plugs, except in case of fire, must be suspended until further notice.

Half Dime Music.—We have received from Mr. Jno. W. Pittock, opposite the Postoffice, a choice assortment of Hitchcock's half dime music sheets, arranged for the piano and beautifully printed. The series embraces all the popular vocal and instrumental airs in fashion, and we marvel how music can be supplied the million so cheap. Call at Pittock's and look through the selection.

THE INCLEMENT SEASON.

AND ITS EFFECTS ON THE WEAK AND FEEBLE.

The drafts which searching cold makes upon the vital powers of the debilitated and delicate are not less severe than the drain upon their strength caused by excessive heat. The vast disparity between the temperature of over-heated rooms and offices, at this season, and the frigidity of the outer air, is a fruitful source of sickness. To fortify the body against the evil consequences of the sudden alternations of heat and cold referred to, the vital organization should be strengthened and enlivened with extra resisting power by the use of a wholesome invigorant; and, of all preparations for this purpose, (whether embraced in the regular pharmacopœia or advertised in the public journals,) there is none that will compare in purity and excellence with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Acting directly upon the organ which converts the food into the fuel of life, the preparation imparts to it a tone and vigor which is communicated to every fibre of the frame. The digestive function being accelerated by its tonic operation, the liver regulated by its anti-bilious properties, and the waste matter of the system carried off punctually by its mild, efficient action the whole organization will necessarily be in the best possible condition to meet the shocks of winter and the sudden changes of temperature. The weak and sensitive, especially, cannot encounter these vicissitudes with safety, unless their tender systems are braced and strengthened by artificial means. Every liquor sold as a staple of trade is adulterated, and we cite it otherwise, mere alcohol is simply a temporary excitant, which, when its first effects have subsided, leaves the physical powers (and the mind as well,) in a worse condition than before. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, on the other hand, contain the essential properties of the most valuable tonic and alterative roots, barks and herbs, and their active principal is the mellowest, least exciting and most innocuous of all diffusive stimulants.

THE SOUND OF THE LUNGS.

One of the most accurate ways of determining whether the lungs are in a healthy or diseased condition, is by means of listening to the respiration. To those experienced in this practice it becomes as plain an index to the state of the lungs, and is as well known to the operator as are the voices of his most intimate acquaintances. The belief that long standing coughs, and diseases of the lungs upon which they are dependent, are incurable, are fast becoming obsolete. One great advantage to be gained from this advance in medical knowledge is the earlier application of those who become afflicted with those diseases to some one competent to afford relief. The error which had taken hold of the public mind in regard to the curability of consumption, or rather non-curability, is fast becoming obliterated, and it is well that it should be so, not that persons should lose that salutary fear which would make them apply for a timely remedy, but that all might be induced to use remedies while there is any hope. It is the delay in these cases that fills us with apprehension and alarm, for if every one would make timely application of DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE in the beginning of a cold or cough, few cases would go so far as to become irremediable.

TO THE BOARD OF

School Directors of the Fourth Ward, Allegheny:

GENTLEMEN—Your Committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Treasurer, Tax Receiver and Collector of Delinquent Taxes, would respectfully report that they have discharged the duties assigned them, and they herewith present statements of the several accounts above named.

It will be perceived from these statements that the receipts of the Board for the year 1868, and the sources from whence derived, were as follows:

Balance on hand at date of last annual statement	$ 7,702 60
Received from D. Macferron, Receiver of Taxes	8,120 38
Received from James Graham, Collector	2,769 56
Received from West Pa. R. R. Co., sale of part of lot	800 00
Received from John Alston, rent of lot	136 12
Received from loan of N. Voegtley, April, 1868	8,000 00
Received from loan of James Graham, April 21, 1868	2,000 00
Received from loan of James Graham, December, 1868	1,500 00
Total	$ 31,048 66

The Expenditures during the year were as follows:

Paid on new house and lot and improvements	$ 25,592 23
Paid interest on loans and bonds	1,162 50
Paid Janitor's wages	821 07
Paid for fuel and contingent expenses	1,152 26
Paid for lot purchased on Gay alley	1,500 00
Total	$ 30,228 06
Balance in the hands of the Treasurer	800 60
	$ 31,028 66

The new model school house, on Liberty street, is completed, and no further expenditures for improving the grounds need be incurred, except a small sum in the Spring for planting shade trees and shrubbery. The total cost of the lot, building and improvements, (a detailed statement of which is herewith presented,) has been $58,653 26
Of which amount there has been paid 48,653 26
Leaving unpaid on the lot 10,000 00
which, by the terms of the contract, is not yet due.

The liabilities and assets of the Board are as follow:

DEBTS:

Loan from N. Voegtley, April 1, 1868	$ 8,000 00
Loan from Jas. Graham, April 21, 1868	2,000 00
Loan from Jas. Graham, December 3, 1868	1,500 00
Bond to J. H. Shoenberger, for lot	10,000 00
		$ 21,500 00

ASSETS:

Tax duplicates of 1868	$ 1,536 40
Balance in the hands of D. Hendree, Treasurer	800 60
Bond of A. Miller, for Canal street house and lot	7,000 00
		9,337 00
Deficit		$ 12,173 00

PROPERTY OF THE BOARD:

New house and lot on Liberty St.	$ 60,000 00
Sandusky street house and lot	20,000 00
Janitor's house and lot on Sandusky street	1,500 00
Gay alley lot recently purchased	1,500 00
	$ 83,000 00

From the above statement it will be perceived that the finances of the Board are not in a favorable condition to new and extended expenditures, yet it is believed that all citizens who have examined the Sandusky street house will heartily concur in the recent strictures of the Inspection Committee of the Board of Controllers and your Committee feel constrained to urge an immediate consideration of the propriety of remodeling or rebuilding said house.

The cost of a new building would probably be not less than $30,000. The estimate cost of remodeling the old house according to the plan of Messrs. Barr & Moser, is about $15,000. If either of the above plans is adopted by the Board, the absolute necessity of purchasing the adjoining property (or a portion of it) will at once become apparent, and immediate action in the matter is respectfully suggested.

R. B. FRANCIS,
R. KOLLOCH,
WM. BROWN,
Auditing Committee.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, February 2, 1869.

The gold market was firm at 135⅝, touching 135½, at which price some heavy purchases were made to cover short sales above 136, but from all appearances, the market has not reached its lowest point, and the reaction at the close to 135¾ is only temporary. The caused of the decline is to be looked for in the increased shipments of cotton and bonds, thereby, avoiding coin shipments. Should Congress legalize specie contracts, there is no doubt a large amount of bonds would go to Europe, but otherwise, the benefit from such a low would be neutralized by the increased demand for coin South, Western and cotton States, where already gold forms a large part of the money in trade; thus, the passage of the gold act would be a direct insury.

Bonds were firm, and advanced at the close in sympathy with gold, but the demand for speculation is very light.

Stocks are strong, and have recovered from the depression, except Erie, which is neglected. Express shares are strong and higher.

Mining shares are dull, but keep at former quotations.

Money is scarce, and commands high rates of interest.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. The present price of oil seems to have infused new life into all of the producing dividend paying oil companies, and we occasionally hear of some of this kind of stock changing hands. We are cognizant of sales of Western Pennsylvania at 75, and Oil Basin (of Philadelphia) at 2, and there is some inquiry for the latter. Columbia is steady at about 18.

—The New York Tribune, of Monday, says: Railway shares opened steady, but upon the report that the Erie Company had failed to control the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central Road, much uneasiness was observed among the holders of the stocks manipulated by the Erie clique, and there was a general rush to sell. Michigan Southern, Cleveland & Pittsburgh, Rock Island, and Fort Wayne were sacrificed by small holders, who, following in the wake of large operators, thought things looked squally and preferred to be out. The decline in the market was from 1 to 3½ per cent., and was fairly distributed on the speculative shares. The final passage of the restrictions of one bill by the Illinois Legislature was made to hammer the market, and a large short interest was created that will be difficult to cover at a profit in the present bullish state of the markef. New York Central declined to 161¾, rallying at the close to 162¾. The Northwestern shares were hammered with great vigor, and a heavy short interest made; the stock was sustained by heavy purchases.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, February 2, 1869.

Notwithstanding the market is strong and prices are fully sustained, there is not the same wild speculative feeling, apparently, that existed some weeks since, and those who, for a time, were exceedingly wild in their views have become more conserlative. We hear less about "bulls" and "bears," and while, as we have already intimated, the market is as strong as ever, there seems to be a better feeling in the trade, and operators generally are more kindly disposed to each other, and there is an almost entire absence of the ill feeling and jealousy, which was so strongly manifested for a time. We do not mean to say that the interests of all are identical, for such is not the case. There are those who would like to see prices go still higher while it would be to the interest of others to see a very large decline. What we mean is, that there seems to be an almost entire absence of anything like manipulation, and there is not the same disposition manifested to resort to strategic points in order to influence the market one way or the other.

CUDE.

The market, especially for early deliveries, appears to be somewhat stronger to-day, and spot oil may be quoted a shade higer. We have but a single sale to report, 500 bbls to be delivered within the next ten days at 17½c, and spot may be quoted at 17½ to 17¾c, the latter figure being offered for 5000 barrels. Next six months, sellers option, 17½c, and until November 1st, seller, 17c was offered. Buyers option, all the year, 20c and same delivery, seller, at 17c.

REFINED.

The market firm but quiet, and prices are full sustained. Sale 1,000 bbls, spot, at at 36½c; 1,000 last half of February at 36c; 500 March at 36¾c, and 500 each April to June at 37c. THE OIL REGIONS.

Advance in Price and Decrease in Production--New Theories--Prospective Developments--The Next Field of Operations--Benedict Estate Company--Preparations for the Spring Campaign.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TITUSVILLE, January 29, 1869.

The rapid and continuous advance in the price of oil has had a very stimulating effect throughout the petroleum regions, and with the advent of spring we are apt to witness such a revival of practical development as will eclipse everything that has preceded it. The steadily decreasing production of oil has had a corresponding effect. Years since, when there were hundreds of flowing wells, petroleum became a drug in the market, thousands upon thousands of barrels of the greasy fluid were permitted to run to waste, and owners considered themselves fortunate in obtaining even one dollar per barrel. Indeed, oil has sold as low as ten cents per barrel. But the production declined, the consumption largely increased, an immense foreign demand followed, prices steadily appreciated, until in 1864 the product actually commanded $14,35 per barrel.

I note these prices as the extreme limits of its fluctuation. Within the last year, the business in all its relations has become so thoroughly systematized and controlled, that we no longer look for such startling variations. Petroleum mining is now regarded as a legitimate industry like that of coal, and is almost free of the speculative operations which characterized its earlier development. The want of operators now is to find it in paying quantities, and the belief is gaining ground that but a few more years must elapse before the producing sections will have become so thoroughly ascertained and developed as to render the business a comparative monopoly in the hands of a few fortunate individuals. I do not fully share this apprehension. Doubtless every practical operator has his theory of the origin of petroleum, and we know that the once commonly received opinion which attributed it to an exudation from the extreme coal fields of the Allegheny range is now generally discarded It is nevertheless my conviction that the oil is generated from coal, but from no beds of bituminous coal that we have any knowledge of, as such beds of coal lay geologically from five to eight hundred feet higher than the sand rocks in which petroleum is found, and it would be physically impossible for the oil to pass downward through fresh water into the sand rock strata. We must therefore conclude that it is the product of coal lying thousands of feet below the surface, and is distilled from the coal by natural heat, and is thus forced by the gas, the lighter element surrounding it, towards the earth's surface until it is lodged in the pores and crevices of the sand rocks, like blood in the veins and arteries of the human system. Puncture the cuticle and it will bleed, open the veins and it will flow.

Eight years of "blood-letting" upon this theory would seem to have been sufficient to exhaust Dame Nature's reservoirs, but her ample cauldrons are ever brewing, and it is not unreasonable to suppose that the practical oil miner will forever be profitably rewarded for his undertakings.

But I began by observing that the production has largely fallen off during the last few months, and there is now an active exploration, under the stimulus of prices, for new fields of operation. There is probably no section of the producing region that has hitherto attracted so little public attention as that known as Enterprise, in Warren county, near the border of Venango county. The operations there have hitherto been confined to the Benedict Estate Company, whose lands are situated on Pine Creek, laid down on many maps as East Oil Creek, but among the early settlers still retaining the former name. Enterprise is geographically the centre of the oil producing region. It is four miles from Titusville, two and half miles from Pleasantville, and ten miles from Tidioute. Operations on the Benedict Estate Company's lands commenced about four years ago, but the owners, being already in the possession of immense wealth, made no special effort to invite the co-operation of foreign capital, and hence retained the territory for moderate operation under their own supervision. It is gratifying to know that this promising field is now to be opened up to general development, and before six months more elapse we shall doubtless witness quite as extensive excitement, and undoubtedly as prolific a yield, as that which has characterized the Pleasantville district during the past year.

Under such circumstances a brief review of its past developments and present condition will interest the oil trade in general. The Benedict Estate Co. commenced operations about four years ago, under the personal direction of Mr. Willis A. Benedict, who is still the Superintendent. Several producing wells were obtained, but none that exceeded a hundred barrels a day. It would seem that the oil rock bears a greater resemblance to that at Church Run, near Titusville, than that at Pleasantville, the oil being found in crevices and being a light gravity green oil. Among wells more particularly worthy of mention is the Willard Well, struck in November last, and now yielding between forty and fifty barrels per day, and constantly increasing. The McKinney well, struck in March last, for several days flowed at the rate of one hundred barrels per day. It shortly after declined, and has fitfully varied between ten and one hundred and eighty barrels per day. The facts show that of necessity it penetrates an immense reservoir of oil. In 1866, the Atkinson well produced sixty barrels a day the first twelve hours. Some of the original wells on these lands are still producing profitably. The oil is found in the sand rock, which various from 18 to 38 feet in thickness. Salt water is found in the second sand, and this necessitates casing and seed bagging at the lower edge of the second sand. Having had wide observation and experience of this region, and finding that the producing land of the Enterprise district has the same general contour, timber, sand, deep depressions, and all the peculiar indications of oil, so strikingly advantageous to the best producing localities on Pithole and Oil Creeks, I am deeply impressed with the conviction it requires only as thorough development to exhibit as profitable returns. The fact that the locality abounds in pine, hemlock, and oak timber, and the fuel is to be had for the cutting, and that the county is well watered by Pine Creek and its branches, as well as plenty of springs, greatly diminishes the cost of boring for oil. The following statement affords a liberal estimate of the expense of sinking a single well in the Enterprise district:

Engine, eight horse power	$500.00
500 feet of tubing	260.00
340 feet of casting	250.00
500 feet of sucker rods	75.00
Working barrel and valves	40.00
Pump fittings, &c	60.00
Derrick Bull Wheel, &c	350.00
Driving Pipe	150.00
Drilling 460 feet by contract	460.00
Total	$2,145.00

I have thus briefly reviewed the situation in its application to the next field of extensive operations in the oil region. There seems to be no shadow of doubt that Enterprise during the ensuing six months will present as lively a panorama as characterized Pleasantville last season. The Benedict Estate Company are already giving out leases to operators who mean "business." With the advent of spring at least a score of new wells will be started, hundreds of men will find employment, the little village will be thronged by strangers, and the tide of travel from Titusville will be directed to the new Oildorado. Mark the prediction, and you will soon see its verification.

The Telegraph Question.

EDITORS GAZETTE: One of the strangest outcroppings of blunted morality that has yet shown itself among that portion of the people which claims to be the custodian of the public faith, is now showing itself in the vociferous appeals to Congress to take charge of the Telegraphic business. The Telegraph is one of those scientific contributions to the civilized world which the exigencies of business demanded, and no where so much as in this land of ours, where the great centres of trade are spread out hundreds and thousands of miles apart

Yet, in the face of this great necessity of the telegraph to the proper conduct of business, we are all aware that when Prof. Morse had perfected the system and offered it to the Government for a small sum of money he was hooted at as a visionary, and left to seek among capitalists the means for introducing to use the most miraculous thing that was ever vouch safed by Heaven to the guidance of man.

Had Congress given the paltry sum asked for the patent, it surely is not to be supposed that it would have been with the purpose of monopolizing the business; for it is hardly conceivable that in this country the government is going to enter the lists as a trader; but it would have been solely for the purpose of throwing it open to the public; that companies might be formed to erect lines and convey messages at moderate cost, having nothing to pay for special privileges. But the truth of history shows that so far from claiming or buying the right to the exclusive use of the new and wonderful agent, it was spurned as a toy.

Men who had faith in the invention then took hold of it. They bought from the patentee the right to use it, for large sums of money. They then spent other large sums in the erection of poles and wires, and took upon themselves all the responsibilities demanded by a new and untried enterprise. They gradually solved the complicated and perplexing problems that inhered in a business wherein much depended upon science and so little on art; the reductions in their charges keeping place with the lessened expenditures; while their responsibilities for errors or delays in the transmission of messages was well established, and damages rapidly exacted.

The needs of trade and of the government hastened the progress of the lines, and now we find the whole country interlaced with a network of wires, erected by the enterprise and paid for with the money of thousands on thousands of our citizens, who expect to reap the profits justly accruing to them. Just then, when twenty years of experiment and use have given confidence to all, and when many millions have been invested in it, and the telegraphic system is firmly established as a necessity of our American civilization, a great cry is suddenly sprung upon us by chambers of commerce and others, of "Monopoly! down with Monopoly!" and a demand made that the government shall do the telegraphing for the people. Wherein consists the monopoly? There might have been some slight show of reason in this cry whilst the patents were still in existence, but now when all or nearly all of them have expired this is utterly absurd, for the business is open to any company that chooses to embark in it.

The effort made in high places to induce Congress now to step in and take the affair out of the hands of those whose capital is invested in it, is one of the most startling proofs of a wide-spread disregard of private rights that has yet appeared; and it behooves honest men to band together, as well in behalf of the public morals as of private rights—because there is no telling where this assault upon vested interests shall stop it once fairly started, and no man's property will be safe. Not that finally the right will fail of vindication, for the Federal Constitution expressly declares that "private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation;" but the perplexity induced by uncertainty, which the law's delay is so slow to assert, would produce much loss and distress, before the end could be reached.

Let then the newspapers speak out. Let them say to Congress, "Hands off! the people took hold of the telegraph and made it what it is, while you laughed at it. The people put their money in it, and it is theirs to reap the profits."

San Francisco.

The growth of this important city on the Pacific coast has been one of the most wonderful even among the rapid changes to be witnessed in the United States. In 1850, the valuation of property for purposes of taxation was $21,621,214, and in 1868 it had raised to $109,360,826. A comparison between the condition of San Francisco in 1860 and in 1868 has recently been published, from which it appears that the statistics of 1860 were as follows: Population, 56,802; number of houses, 10,123, principally of wood, poorly built, and of a small size; annual cost of school department, $156,407; number of pupils deparment, $376,392; percentage of attendance, 93.95; daily average attendance, 17,426. During 1868 the value of the improvements made has been estimated at $100,000,000, exclusive of $1,500,000 expended on the streets.

Railway Items.

President Jewett of the Panhandle Company, gives the following notice:

This Company having leased the Columbus, Chicago & Indiana Central Railway Company, the undersigned, in pursuance of said lease, and by direction of his Company, takes possession of the same and the management thereof.

A railway bill has been introduced into the Ohio legislature which provides that no person shall be eligible for president, vice-president or director of any railroad in the State unless he shall have been a resident of the State for one year next preceding his candidacy for office, and unless he is the bona fide holder of at least one hundred shares of stock. If he removes from the State his term of office shall then cease. The bill further provides that at any election the owner of stock in order to vote shall be obliged to produce a certificate of his stock as evidence of ownership and of his right to vote thereon. It is further provided that all meetings of stockholders, directors and executive committees shall be held at the principal office of the company, which shall be within that State; that all dividends shall be declared and made payable in cash only; that all convertible bonds of the different railroad companies in the State may be converted into capital stock, but in no other way shall the same be increased for any purpose whatever; that the treasurer or financial agent of any company shall give ample security for the faithful performance of his duties, and shall also keep his office at the principal office of the company in that State; and that all moneys belonging to such companies shall be kept on deposit in the State.

Affairs in the South.

Generals Porter and Babcock of General Grant's staff have returned from their tour of inspection through the Southern States. They visited every military post in the country through which they traveled and will make a written report to Gen. Grant. They represent North Carolina as in the best condition and next stands Alabama. The worst state of affairs exists in Georgia and some legislation from Congress to secure the rights of the loyal people in that State will be recommended. They say the negroes were in the right in the Ogechee troubles and they should be protected. Notwithstanding the militia troubles in Arkansas that State is in a flourishing condition.

OTTAWA, the capital of the Dominion of Canada, has no water works, and the principal means in the city for procuring water for ordinary household purposes, and to extinguish fires, is the use of horses and carts to draw it up the steep bank of the river, and thus convey it to the distant quarters of the city where it is wanted either for general use or for sudden emergencies. The consequence is, that if a fire occurs, no matter how substantial the building in which it originates, the destruction of the edifice is inevitable. The insurance companies, it is asserted, have refused taking any further risks in Ottawa. The inhabitants of the capital, while exerting themselves to secure various expensive improvements, have neglected to construct the most important and most necessary of all conveniences, an engine to raise the water from the river.

GEN. BATTLE, of Alabama, thus informs a correspondent: "I intend to support and maintain negro suffrage in the sense of the resolution of the Alabama Democratic Convention which recognizes it as a fact, and the laws imposed upon us as a de facto government."

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCREASING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the insured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy. The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed To THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Firemen acquitted themselves nobly at both the large fires last evening.

Our expert velocipedestrians wager to run races over Nicolson pavements with heavily laden coal wagons.

Fined.—Mayor Drum fined several teamsters $2,50 each for driving over the pavements in the Allegheny Diamond.

Lieutenants Appointed.—Mayor Drum has appointed John McChesney as first, August Ekey as second, and Frank Campbell as third Lieutenant of his police. The new system of relief will go into operation the first of next month.

Fourth Ward, Allegheny, taxpayers will be interested in the perusal of the report to the Board of School Directors of the Committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Treasurer, Tax Receiver, and Collector of Delinquent Taxes, which will be found in full on our fifth page.

Appointed Agent.—Mr. R. M. Allen, the well known and enterprising merchant of New Castle, Pa., has been appointed agent, for that town, of the Merchants' Union Express Company. No more worthy gentleman could have been selected for the position, and under his management the Company must find New Castle a paying point.

Allegheny Letter Carriers' Report.—The following is the Allegheny Letter Carriers' Report for last month:

	Delivered.	Collected.
Mail Letters	38,672	14,692
Drop Letters	4,191	1,243
Papers	20,886	488
Total	63,749	16,423

Policeman Caned.—Monday evening Mr. James S. Lloyd, one of the newly appointed police officers, was made the recipient of a very handsome cane, manufactured from a piece of the rebel ram "Merrimac," by Mr. James Sherran, of the Sherran House. Alderman Johns made the presentation speech, and John Evans, Esq., responded in behalf of the recipient.

Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson yesterday morning held an inquest on the body of John Carr, who died suddenly at the Railroad House, Penn street, Twelfth ward. The deceased complained of feeling unwell the evening previous, and grew worse until yesterday morning at half past seven o'clock, when he expired. A verdict of death from heart disease was rendered.

Slight Fire.—Yesterday about noon a slight fire occurred in the foundry department of the Malleable Iron Works, Messrs. Reynolds & Co. proprietors, located on River avenue, Allegheny, near the Chestnut street bridge. An alarm was sounded and the fire department were promptly on the ground. Their services were not required, however, as the fire was extinguished with a few buckets of water.

Larceny of Stoves.—Mr. Jeremy, of the firm of Jeremy, Heitzman & Co., glass manufacturers, Fifteenth ward, came to the Mayor's office yesterday and stated that several days since three men drove a horse and wagon to the glass house and took three stoves therefrom, and putting them in the wagon drove off. The parties are to him unknown. The matter was placed in the hands of officers Dressler and Cupples, who have succeeded in finding two of the stoves at a second hand store on Liberty street. The thieves have not yet been arrested.

Allegheny Mayor's Office.

The following record exhibits the cases disposed of at the Allegheny Mayor's office during the month of January, 1869: Drunkenness, fifty-six; disorderly, fifty-seven; breach of city ordinance, twenty-two; vagrancy, thirteen; larceny, five; selling liquor on Sunday, two; felonious assault and battery, six; seduction, one; surety of the peace, five; total, one hundred and sixty-seven. Of these thirty-four were committed to jail, seventy-one paid fines and the remainder were discharged.

Robbed His Brotners.

Henry Steiner, who, it appears, is partially insane, was arrested yesterday by officer Vogle, of Birmingham, on a charge of stealing three hundred dollars from his brother, with whom he resides in Lower St. Clair township. The brothers are glass blowers, and on Monday morning went to their work, leaving Henry at home. Shortly after their departure, it seems, he broken open a trunk and took the money which was in a pocket book in the trunk. He deposited two hundred dollars of it in the Birmingham Bank, and had ninety dollars in his possession when arrested. He was locked up in the Birmingham tombs for a hearing.

Beautiful Western Avenue Residence at Auction.

To day (Wednesday,) at two and a half P. M., on the premises, Messrs. H. B. Smithson & Co. will sell that desirable residence and grounds, corner of Western avenue and Bidwell street, Allegheny city. The residence is one of the handsomest in either city, containing fifteen spacious and commodious rooms, finished in the most modern style. The lot has a front on Western avenue of 100 feet, extending back along Bidwell street 227 feet, is beautifully laid out and handsomely ornamented. The property was formerly owned and occupied by J. P. Lyon, Esq., and to persons desiring a first class house, should prove very attractive.

Kerosene Explosion.

Another explosion, caused by the careless use of kerosene, occurred at Port Perry Monday morning in the house of Mr. J. B. Robson. It appears that Mr. R. arose at an early hour in the morning, and going down stairs found the fire out, as he supposed, and for the purpose of re-kindling it readily poured a quantity of kerosene or coal oil from a large can which contained about two gallons. While thus engaged the oil ignited and the flames were instantly communicated to the oil in the can and an immediate and terrific explosion was the result. The burning oil was scattered in all directions, and Mr. Robson was thrown violently to the opposite side of the room. His clothes being covered with the oil, took fire, and he was severely though not seriously burned about the hands, arms, breast and face. The noise created by the explosions awoke several of the neighbors, who rushed to the assistance of Mr. R., and with their aid his wife and children were removed from the house, and the flames afterward extinguished before any serious damage was done. The escape was a miraculous one, and should be a lesson against the careless use of that dangerous article.

CITY COUNCILS.

The resolution exhonorating Mr. Stanton from the payment of an assessment upon his property for grading and paving Forbes street, adopted in C. C. January 29, 1869, was, on motion of Mr. Morrow, laid on the table.

The petition of C. Magee, relative to obstructions on Neville street, referred to the City Solicitor in C. C. January 29, 1869, was called up and S. C. concurred.

In the matter of the remonstrance against the grading and paving of Webster street, in C. C. Januarv 29, 1869, referred to the Street Committee, S. C. concurred.

In the matter relative to the East End Gas Company, adopted in S. C. January 29, 1869, amended in S. C. same date, by striking out the clause giving the city privilege to purchase the works in twenty years, S. C. receded and concurred with C. C.

Mr. Torrens presented a petition for the grading and paving of Liberty street from 31st to 33d streets. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. A. M. Brown presented a petition from R. M. Evans, asking privilege to erect an iron clad building on Congress street near Fifth avenue, in the Seventh ward. Refered to the Committee on Wooden Buildings.

Mr. Kirk moved to reconsider the action of Council in the confirmation of Mr. Hosack, Street Commissioner of the Third district.

The motion prevailed.

After considerable discussion on the subject, Mr. Gross moved to concur. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Shipton, the Committee on Ordinances were instructed to prepare an ordinance defining the boundaries of the 1st, 2d and 3d Street districts, and also to provide for the annual election of Street Commissioners for these districts. Adopted.

Mr. Scully presented a petition from the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway, asking privilege to lay their tracks on Liberty street, Sixth avenue, Wood street, Fifth avenue and Market streets.

On motion of Mr. Kirk, the petition was laid on the table.

Mr. Phillips submitted the annual report of the Controller.

On motion of Mr. Gallaher, the reading of the report was dispensed with. It was received and filed.

Mr. Scully presented a resolution authorizing the Finance Committee to negotiate for the purchase of the turnpike and plankroads in the city limits.

Mr. Phillips moved to amend by substituting a Special Committee of three from Select and four from the Common Council, instead of the Finance Committee.

The amendment was adopted, and Messrs. Gallaher, Z. Wainwright and Coffin appointed in S. C.

Mr. Hartman called up the bill of Jno. Boyd for lowering stop cocks and water paves, which was laid on the table at a previous meeting.

The Chairman decided that the motion was out of order; that the matter could only come before Councils on a motion to reconsider.

Mr. Hartman moved to reconsider the action of Councils, which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hartman, the matter was then referred to the Committee on Claims and Accounts.

Mr. Torrens called up the matter relative to grading and paving of Liberty street. He stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company had refused to pay the assessments upon their property abutting on the street, The assessments amounted to $15,000, and the contractor was not able to lay out of his money.

On motion of Mr. Gross, the matter was referred to the City Solicitor.

Council adjourned.

Common Council

There were present Messrs. Ardary, Albeitz, Batchelor, Barton, Barr, Berger, Bell, Bulger, Carrol, Caskey, Case, Chislett, Dain, Daub, Fleming, Gerner, Gildenfenney, Hare, House, Houston, Hutchinson, Jamison, Jahn, Jones, Lanahan, Lockhart, Meanor, Meyer, Moore, Morton, McCarthy, McClarren, McCandless, McMasters, McCleane, McKelvey, Palmer, Pearson, Penney, Potts, Reed, Rebman, Rosewell, Shott, Scott, Vick, Weldon, Welsh and President Tomlinson.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

The President announced the object of the meeting, when the following nominations for Guardians of the Poor, two to be elected, were made: Henry Hays, William Woods, W. J. Anderson, George H. Anderson and John J. Torley.

Mr. Morgan withdrew the name of Mr. Torley, according to the request of that gentleman, when the election proceeded viva voce with the following result:

Henry Hays	47
William Woods	24
W. J. Anderson	4
Geo. H. Anderson	23

There being forty-eight members voting,

The President announced that twenty-five votes were required to elect anv candidate, and accordingly announced the election of Mr. Henry Hays.

Mr. Reed moved the unanimous election of Mr. Woods as the second member of the Board.

Objection being made, a second vote was taken, resulting in the election of Geo. H. Anderson, he receiving twenty-eight votes and Mr. Woods twenty-one.

Mr. Morgan moved that the Council proceed to the adoption of rules for the government of the body, the matter having been laid over at a former meeting.

Mr. Batchelor stated that the rules governing the former Council had been already adopted by the present Council for their government.

Considerable discussion ensued on this point, after which Mr. Morgan withdrew his motion in favor of one made by Mr. Houston, that Common Council non-concur with the action of Select Council in changing the rules so as to require the Survey Committee to report in Select instead of Common Council. The motion was carried.

Mr. Houston then moved that Councils adopt the rules as amended, for the year 1869. Carried.

Mr. Batchelor offered a resolution instructing the City Controller to contract with the Commercial Printing Company for printing 125 copies of the municipal record, similar to those of last year, for the use of the members of Councils, the cost of the same to be assessed pro rata on the members of both Councils,

Mr. Weldon thought the city should furnish members of Councils with conveniences for transacting business, such as the record had proven itself to be, and he was opposed to taxing the members for procuring the same.

Mr. Reed thought if anything of the kind was done, the job should be given to the regularly elected City Job Printer.

Mr. Houston moved the reference of the resolution to the Committee on City Printing.

Mr. Batchelor thought the matter should be acted upon at once. As the members were to pay the cost of the Record, it did not concern any Committee of Councils at all.

Mr. Fleming was opposed to the resolution. Councils employed a Clerk to keep the record of its proceedings; the minutes were also fully reported in the papers doing the city printing; and he thought it was altogether unnecessary to burthen the city or Councilmen with additional expense for performing the same work.

Mr. Batchelor amended the resolution by striking out the words "Commercial Printing Company," and instructing the Controller to contract with any parties.

Mr. Houston withdrew his motion to refer the resolution.

Mr. Weldon moved to amend the resolution by instructing the Controller to contract with any printer or printers to furnish Councils with the requisite number of copies of the record at a cost not exceeding $350, the cost to be paid out of the City Treasury.

Mr. Reed thought this was an exorbitant charge; any printer would do the work for less than half that price. He moved to lay the resolution and amendment on the table. Carried.

The business from Select Council was then taken up and disposed of, after which Mr. McCarthy offered a resolution instructing the Printing Committee to contract for the printing of the requisite number of copies of a Municipal Record, for the use of the members, the expense of the same to be paid by the city.

Mr. Reed moved to lay the resolution on the table. Lost.

Mr. McCandless hoped that members would not be in haste to vote on the question of drawing so early on the limited contingent fund at disposal.

Mr. Hutchison moved to postpone the whole matter for the present. Lost.

Mr. Reed offered an amendment, instructing the Committee on City Printing to advertise for proposals for printing a record for the use of the members.

After some discussion the amendment was lost.

Mr. McCandless called for the yeas and nays on the adoption of the original resolution, but it was not seconded by a sufficient number of members.

The resolution was then adopted.

This business was not reached in Select Council.

On motion adjourned.

ALLEGHENY SCHOOL CONTROLLERS.

Organization of the Board for 1869—Reports of the Local Boards—High School Question, &c., &c.

The members elect and the members holding over of the Allegheny Board of Controllers for the year 1869, assembled last evening in the Common Council Chamber, City building, for the purpose of organizing and transacting other business. At 7½ o'clock, on motion of Mr. R. B. Francis, a temporary organization was effected by calling Mr. John U. Barr to the Chair, and appointing Mr. Wm. Mussler as Secretary.

The following named gentlemen constitute the Board:

First Ward.—Rev. J. B. Clark, M. Borland, J. B. Ingham, R. Pitcairn, R. Young, R. White.

Second Ward.—Rev. Jos. King, H. M. Dunlap, L. H. Eaton, D. Dennison, J. P. Sprague, Jas. Lockhart.

Third Ward.—Rev. E. E. Swift, John U. Barr, C. C. Boyle, F. Beckert, J. Thorn, F. Torrence.

Fourth Ward.—S. Barker, Wm. Brown, R. B. Francis, R. C. Loomis, R. C. Miller, T. McCance.

Fifth Ward.—Rev. D. J. K. Rian, Robt. Lea, N. McClinton, D. L. Patterson, J. E. Parke, Jos. Walton.

Sixth Ward.—W. F. Trimble, J. C. Chadwick, C. W. Kimball, Wm. Mussler, D. W. Riggs, J. P. Richey.

Seventh Ward.—Independent school district.

Eighth Ward.—Geo. Moul, S. McRoberts, W. Oakley, H. W. Mininger, Geo. McConnell, G. P. Wilhelm.

All of the above were present except Messrs. Ingham, McRoberts, McConnell, Parke, Rian, Swift and Walton.

Rev. J. B. Clark led the Board in prayer.

President Barr stated that nominations for permanent officers was in order.

Mr. Lea nominated Rev. J. B. Clark for President. There being no other nomination, that gentleman was elected unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Lea, Mr. R. B. Francis was elected Secretary, and Mr. Wm. Hamilton Treasurer, by acclamation.

Mr. D. Macferron was nominated for Receiver of Taxes and elected unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Francis, Mr. Joseph Marshall was chosen Janitor and Messenger.

The election for officers having been concluded, President Clark took up business in regular order and called for the

REPORTS OF LOCAL BOARDS.

The First ward Board reported the schools in a flourishing condition.

The Second ward Board reported an increase of sixty-four in the average attendance of scholars during the past month.

The Third ward Board reported the resignation of Miss Tillie Hauks, of the Grammar Department, and the election of Miss M. J. Adair to fill the vacancy in the Primary Department, caused by the regular promotion of teachers in the other departments to fill the vacancy occasioned by Miss Hauks' resignation.

The action of the Board was confirmed.

Reports from the remaining boards, including that of the Committee on Colored Schools, represented all of them in an encouraging condition.

THE HIGH SCHOOL QUESTION.

Mr. King presented the report from the Committee appointed in regard to procuring, if necessary, an act of the Legislature authorizing the establishment of a High School in the city. It was stated in the report that no legislation had been found necessary, and that the way was clear for the establishment of the institution.

The report was received and ordered to be filed.

BILLS, COMMUNICATIONS, &C.

Several bills from various persons were received and warrants for their payment ordered to be drawn.

Mr. Francis read a communication from Miss Matilda Ware, formerly teacher in the Colored schools, thanking the Board for the very flattering mention of her services in their annual report.

The communication was placed on file.

The bonds of the several collectors of school taxes were presented by Mr. Francis and approved by the Board with the exception of that from the Sixth ward, in which Mr. Robert Dilworth was authorized as tax collector.

Mr. Trimble stated that Mr. Isaac Stewart had been selected by the Sixth Ward Local Board as tax collector for that ward, and on his motion action in the matter was laid over until next meeting.

Mr. Francis presented a tabular statement of the attendance in the different schools during the month, showing the number enrolled to be 5,531, with an average attendance of 4,768, and an increase of 323 scholars. The report was placed on file.

Mr. Moul offered the following:

Resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed to memorialize the Legislature to suspend the order of the Court of Quarter Sessions creating an independent district out of the Seventh ward and part of Reserve township, so far as the same relates to the Seventh ward.

The resolution after considerable discussion was adopted, and Messers. Moul, Boyle, King, Barker and Young appointed said Committee.

Mr. Moul moved that the Finance Committee be relieved from the consideration of the matter of the Eighth ward school tax. Carried.

Mr. King moved the appointment of a Committee, consisting of one from each Local Board, to take into consideration the establishment of a High School in the city, and if favorable to the same, to report at the next meeting a candidate for City Superintendent, together with the amount of salary and duties attached to the office. Carried, and Messrs. Ingham, King, Barr, Miller, Lea, Riggs and Moul appointed as the Committee.

Mr. Boyle moved that $20 be appropriated for the purchase of books for the use of indigent scholars in attendance at the Colored schools.

Mr. Boyle in support of the motion said he understood a similar fund was appropriated for all the other schools in the city and he thought there should be no exception.

Mr. Barker stated that the law provided for the purchase of books in such cases, and he thought the Committee on Colored Schools could make the purchase accordingly.

The President said that every action of Local Boards must be approved by the Board of Controllers, or it would be null and void. Consequently all money paid out for purposes not approved by the Board would have to come out of the pockets of the persons expending it.

Mr. Lockhart moved to lay the resolution on the table. Lost.

Mr. Lockhart then called for the reading of the items in a bill presented during the evening by the Committee on Colored Schools.

The bill amounted to forty-two dollars, which amount had been paid for the purpose aimed at in Mr. Boyle's motion.

Mr. Boyle, after the reading of the bill, withdrew his motion.

Mr. Francis moved that the Committee on Colored Schools be allowed $10 per annum for the purchase of such books as were necessary in the schools under their charge.

Mr. Boyle moved to amend by making the amount $20, with the understanding that no more than had already been appropriated to pay the bill just read, be expended the present year. The motion as amended was adopted.

Mr. Boyle moved that the Secretary be instructed to have slips printed containing the appointments of the Committees for the year for the use of the members of the Board. Carried.

Mr. Lockhart moved that the salary of the Secretary be increased to $500 per year. Carried.

On motion, adjourned.

DISASTROUS CONFLAGRATION.

Destruction of Evans, Clow & Dalzell's Pipe Works by Fire—Several Dwelling Houses Burned—Eleven Families Homeless.

A terrible and destructive fire occurred between six and seven o'clock yesterday evening, by which the extensive Gas Pipe Works of Evans, Clow & Dalzell, at Soho, in the Fourteenth ward, and several dwelling houses, were destroyed.

The fire originated about six o'clock in the pipe works, which was a large frame building, and in less than half an hour afterwards the entire structure was one vast sheet of flames. An alarm was communicated from box 53, at the Relief Engine House, and several of the steamers repaired to the scene of the conflagration; but owing to the insufficient supply of water and the distance it had to be conveyed, only three of the steamers, the Duquense, Relief and Neptune, went into service. By the time the steamers arrived on the ground the fire had made such progress as to become almost unmanageble, the flames were spreading to the dwelling houses in the vicinity, most of which wer eframe structures, and threatened to sweep everything before them.

Eleven dwelling houses, which were occupied by the families of some of the employes of the establishment, fell a prey to the devouring element and were totally consumed. In some instances the furniture and clothing of the occupants were burned in the building, and the occupants themselves barely escaped. Eleven families were left houseless, and in several instances everything they owned, except the clothing upon their backs, was destroyed.

The loss is variously estimated at from $100,000 to $200,000, and we were unable to ascertain what insurance there was on the property.

The firemen worked hard and faithfully to subdue the flames and through their efforts a vast amount of property was saved that otherwise would have been destroyed.

The buildings destroyed were all frame structures, consequently their destruction was very rapid. The entire upper end of the city was in danger of being burned, and had the wind been high and the atmosphere dry and clear, in all probability there would have been a terrible conflagration, as the sparks from the burning buildings were carried westward into the city as far as Congress street, over a mile distant from the fire.

Stock Sales.—The following stocks were sold last evening at the Commercial Sales Rooms, 106 Smithfield street, by A. McIlwaine, Auctioneer:

Another Destructive Fire.

Last night about half past eleven o'clock a fire broke out in the repair shop located in the rear, and connected with, Mr. James Bown's hardware and cutlery establishment, No. 136 Wood street, resulting in the destruction of the shop and its contents, consisting of a large and valuable stock of materials and finished work. Through the prompt exertions of the firemen, the flames were prevented from spreading to any great extent. Two of the adjoining houses caught fire, near the eaves and on the roof, but as they were quickly extinguished, the damage to them will be slight. None of the stock or material was saved from the shop, and the loss will doubtless be considerable. We could not ascertain the amount last night, however, as Mr. Brown resides in the rural districts, and was not in the city at the time of the fire. The stock of carpets in the basement of McCallum's carpet store, fronting on Fifth Avenue, were much damaged by water.

—Since the above was in type, we have learned that two of the houses destroyed were owned by Mr. Robert J. Connell, and occupied by George O'Donnell and Mrs. Aiken. Two of the others, in the rear of these, name of the owner unknown, were occupied by Mrs. McKain and James Donnell. A new frame building, not occupied, owned by Mr. J. Devin, was also destroyed, together with Messrs. Robson and Campbell's chain factory.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—This popular place of amusement was largely attended last evening by the elite of the amusement going portion of the community, on the occasion of the second appearance of the Worrell sisters. The Grand Duchess was reproduced in a manner highly satisfactory to the entire audience. To-night "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" will be presented.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—Betty Rigle, the beautiful danseuse, is the chief attraction at Smythe's American Theatre. Her dancing is charming, and she is called before the curtain at every appearance. Smythe's "Punch and Judy" is extremely funny, and the Varieties Company is a most excellent one.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—M'lle Augusta, the great American premier danseuse, is attracting large crowds to the Old Theatre nightly. She is at the top of the profession, and is a decided favorite with the habitues of that establishment. M'lle Coutellier and her brother, the fearless trapeze performers, are still entertaining the patrons of the Old Drury with their wonderful performances.

THE TETEDOUX CONCERT.—The sale of reserved seats for the grand Tetedoux concert on Friday evening, at the Academy, will commence this morning at Meller's, No. 81, and Kleber's, No. 125 Wood street. From present indications the occasion will be largely attended, as it has been so long since our talented home singers have appeared before the public in concert, that an universal desire is expressed among lovers of art and culture to be present with them.

MRS. SIDDONS.—This eminent English actress will read at the Academy of Music, from Shakespeare, Tennyson and Scott, on Monday and Tuesday evenings next, under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association. The high reputation made and sustained in the old and new continents by this lady should secure for her a large and fashionable audience. Reserved seats will be sold at Lafayette Hall on Friday evening next.

MASONIC HALL.—The young Zouaves will give a series of their excellent entertainments, consisting of vocal pieces, military exhibitions, select readings and tableauxs, at Masonic Hall, commencing to-morrow (Thursday) evening and continuing four evenings. These entertainments are highly spoken of by the press of the Eastern cities, and are doubtless of an interesting character.

CHARITY FAIR.—The attendance continues to increase at the Charity Fair now being held in the basement of the Cathedral, and the managers are adding to the attractions. The Cathedral Brass Band is in attendance every night.

MUSEUM.—The Learned Pig continues to be the centre of attraction at Burnell's Museum. He is a very intelligent specimen of his race, and his accomplishments are highly interesting and entertaining.
